fect Letter company of that city. Miss Florence Ely's many friends have extended a very hearty welcome at 37 South Main street, where she is stopping.To-day's weather and the frigid brand served up last night resembled the last of corn-husking time more than the balmy days of late summer when poets sing their lays. At 6:30 this morning the mercury had sunk to 42 degrees and by noon its elevation had increased to only 52. Last night around 7 o'clock the mercury fell to the depressing depth of 41, just nine degrees over freezing temperature. A chilling blast blew from the north and only the cloudy sky prevented a heavy frost this morning.For Labor day attraction, the management of the Italian A. C. has secured a double-header with the strong West Rutland independent team. One game is to be played in the morning and another in the afternoon at the Berlin street grounds. Beaten quite likely will be used on the mound in the forenoon game and Rovetta will fight it out in the afternoon. This Rutland organization is a team which, with Sanka in the box, put a crimp in the local club's winning streak in the month of May at West Rutland.

BRADFORD FAIR ENDED.

Races Yesterday Were Very Closely Contested and Enjoyed by Large Crowd.

Bradford, Aug. 30.—While the last day did not see as large a crowd on the grounds of the Bradford fair as was there the second day, the races were very closely contested and the crowd more than repaid for attending.

In the horse show, first prize for matched pair was awarded to S. W.

MILL OWNER IS ARRESTEDWilliam M. Wood Accused in Alleged Dynamite Conspiracy

ON A SECRET INDICTMENT

President of American Woolen Company Produced $5,000 Cash Bail for His Appearance Later—Two Others Indicted With Him.

Boston, Aug. 30.—President William M. Wood of the American Woolen company, was arrested to-day on an indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday, charging him with conspiracy to distribute dynamite in Lawrence during the general textile strike there last January. He surrendered himself to the authorities and furnished $5,000 cash bail.

President Wood was one of the three men who were named in the secret indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday. The second indictment named Dennis J. Collins, a dog fancier of Cambridge, who was arrested yesterday, charged with having transported dynamite unlawfully.

It is understood that Wood will be arraigned next Tuesday. He did not appear disturbed during the proceedings. He said: "Of course I am greatly surprised by the action of the grand jury. I cannot conceive what information could have been presented to the jurors which in any way connected me with the so-called dynamite plot. I certainly had no connection with it, and this fact will be fully established at the proper time to the satisfaction of the public and even the district attorney. Beyond this I have nothing to say."

The indictment, containing five counts, charged Wood, Collins and a third man, whose name is withheld, with conspiring with John J. Breen and Ernest W. Pitman to place explosives in three houses in Lawrence, where strikers were accustomed to assemble. The indictment charges that the defendants placed the dynamite with intent to falsely impute to the strikers the crime of having in their possession explosives for the purpose of nullifying property and owners and operations.

Dynamite Purchased of Quarry Owner.

It was learned yesterday that Ernest W. Pitman, whose suicide at his Lawrence home early Tuesday morning was due to his connection with the plot to discredit the mill operatives, purchased dynamite last January from William H. Rice, who owns a granite quarry in East Milton. Rice lives at 135 Quarry street, East Milton, and has told his story to the grand jury.

In the belief that the dynamite was to be used for blasting, he not only furnished it to Pitman, but assisted the latter in carrying it to Boston, where it was turned over to another man. Collins is charged with transporting the dynamite on Jan. 20.

IN RUTLAND NEXT YEAR.

Universals Decide to Meet There—

O. K. Hollister Again President.

Woodstock, Aug. 30.—At the closing session yesterday of the Universalist churches of Vermont and the Province of Quebec, strong resolutions on the liquor question and on universal peace were adopted. Rutland was selected as the convention city of 1913.

The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year: President, O. K. Hollister of Barre; vice-president, F. B. Gillette of Richmond; secretary and superintendent, Rev. George F. Fortier of Rutland; treasurer, S. F. Watson of St. Albans; trustee for three years, S. C. Greene of St. Albans; preacher of occasional sermon, Rev. F. M. Bissell of Wilmington; fellowship committee, Rev. H. A. Parkhurst of Springfield, Rev. H. L. Canfield of Woodstock, Rev. B. M. Butler of St. Johnsbury, A. E. Tuttle of Bellows Falls and A. L. Cady of Bethel.

mont, N. H., arrived in this city last night for a few days' visit with friends.

Mrs. M. Patterson and son, Harold, of Highland avenue, returned to this city this morning from Cabot, where they have been visiting at the home of Mrs.

NEW ORGANIZATIONS FORMED.

Five Companies File Papers at Office of Secretary of State.

The office of the secretary of state has been doing a big business within the past few days, no less than five organizations having filed articles of association.

LITTLE GIRL RUN DOWN

BY SPEEDING AUTO

Goldie Goldstein of Rutland May Have

Been Fatally Hurt—Man and Woman Were Placed Under Arrest.

Rutland, Aug. 30.—John E. Gossler of Manchester and Josephine Dansors of this city are under arrest as the result of a joy ride which they took yesterday through West Rutland yesterday afternoon, when they are alleged to have run down and probably fatally injured

Goldie Goldstein, aged five years, of West Rutland. The little girl ran in front of the machine and was struck by a sudden system of live wires, which he stepped into sight. The moment Chairman Page gave the word, the singer dropped his hat and was off on a tunc-ful campaign melody, entitled "I Am Serving the Lord in My Own Weak Way." Captain Stanley got into the good graces of the crowd and was responsible for his good humor throughout the rally.

For three moments he dispensed a considerable lot of campaign thunder, and in the next second he was sliding easily into one of his tuneful songs. Presently he was imitating Col. T. R. with only a slouch hat, glasses and broad smile characteristic of the Oyster Bay candidate.

Clement F. Smith of Morrisville was greeted with a round of applause as he came forward to speak. In introducing him, Chairman Page said: "We have with us to-night the man who will be the next governor of Vermont if he gets a majority of votes." The chairman's vitticism was received with a good-natured laugh. Candidate Smith said that Vermont farmers had for years been wondering when the time would come for them to cease paying more than their share of the taxes. He advocated the exemption of taxes on mortgages.

Declaring that the Republican party was responsible for the present conditions, he continued by telling of the report of the special commission appointed to consider tax revisions four years ago.

At that time, he claimed, the commission reported that the flat rate on intangibles and the abolishing of offsets would do away with the evils of double taxation. "We believe that this is class legislation," said the speaker. Referring to the income tax amendment, Mr. Smith recalled that a Barre man in the Senate of 1910 advocated the adoption of the amendment. He hadn't noticed where he had advocated the same measure in any of his campaign speeches this year.

The prohibitionist candidate believed that Vermont should have this constitutional amendment, but he afterwards declared his belief that pressure from outside the state had been brought to bear against its passage in the legislature. It is legislation which millionaires do not seem to favor, said Mr.

Smith, and somehow tax legislation in Vermont always seems to favor the money men. Vermont farmers, asking for bread, have received only a stone.

O'Brien Said Metzger's Gone Astray.

At 9 o'clock, Chairman Page introduced Matthew E. O'Brien, who he said, had been persuaded to switch from his trip out of Maine to come to Barre for the evening. Mr. Page intimated that the
